Prelude

It started in the sixteenth century with the cry of the wounded Ignatius—a harsh, rough scream of a man torn by pain—a sound mellowed by the solitude of Manresa. A shaky melody taken up by Xavier and miraculously harmonized into a brilliant symphony in the din of Reformation Europe. A song carried over the sea on the lips of Jogues. Four centuries later, we find ourselves in the chorus. We hear it in the unison of the deep-throated senior and the scraggly-voiced freshman. A thousand pairs of feet, jumping in joy, stamping in desperation, hurrying, scuffling, provide it with a rhythm that only the youth of a modern age can beat. Its tone colors with every sweating lineman, every queasy-stomached debater, every post-game sore throat. Its music is written in report cards, senior rings, greying hairs of faculty members—but also in dirty white socks as the Saturday night clock yawns towards midnight, in sweaty Sunday afternoon scoreboards, in monthly school newspapers. A thousand voices hum its tune—a thousand voices lifted praising God—a thousand voices laughing, cheering, snoring, crying the battle song of U-D, the battle song of Ignatius—a man whose encore never ended.

Stop! Look! Listen to our Song!
 Its score is upon our faces,
 Its melody on our tongues—

Standing in line—our T-shirt chorus,
 Intoning attendance.
 Sixty red shorts,
 One hundred and twenty well-sweated socks,
 A million different stories.
 The bell sings out lunch time—
 A peanut butter sandwich
 Mixed with last night's Caesar,
 Intellectual frustration, the afternoon's quiz—
 Swallowed between gulps of milk,
 And then more peanut butter.
 Peanut butter, peanut butter, semper peanut butter—
 Faith, O friend, tomorrow it may be ham.
 If I were a teacher, we'd sing a different tune.
 No quizzes, tests, but oh how we'd learn.
 But now my back hurts and my feet itch,
 The desk is way too small.
 How can anyone be concerned with cosines and tangents,
 When my desk is so very small?

Faculty

Dedication

Ever since his arrival at U. of D. High School in 1929, Mr. Herbert J. Stepaniak has been an indispensable mainstay of the Science Department, having taught Physics, Chemistry, and Mathematics. His personal concern for the student coupled with a sarcastic wit makes the course he teaches interesting as well as profitable. As a direct result of his efforts, innumerable alumni as professional men owe much of their present success to his teaching abilities. In an indirect way, the reputation of U. of D. High also has a debt of gratitude to pay him, and, in way of recognition and appreciation, the 1963 Cub Annual has been dedicated to Mr. Herbert J. Stepaniak.

Attentive mothers listen as Fr. Farrell, S.J., explains the year's calendar.

Fr. Pollauf, S.J. entertains a mother with a detailed explanation of the "5-W" plan.

MOTHERS' CLUB

Mr. Boylan, S.J. discusses schoolwork with an interested mother at a monthly meeting.

A good education requires much more than the right books. At U. of D. High it demands the close co-operation of the teachers, parents, and students. To insure this type of co-operation is the purpose of the Mothers' Club. Under the moderation of Fr. Farrell, S.J., the mothers work toward their goal through understanding and action.

The monthly meetings provide the mothers with an opportunity to obtain understanding of their sons' problems through lectures on youth, to discuss educational difficulties personally with the teachers, and to get to know each other in a friendly atmosphere. As a member of the Mothers' Club, the mother not only gains a deeper insight of her son's education, but also is in the position to improve it.

The Mothers' Club provides the school with an energetic organization for action. School projects, such as the P.A. system, a scholarship program, and social events, all owe their existence and success to the hard-working mothers. The Gala Night, a perennial February family affair of the Mothers' Club, proved to be a great success this year with the theme Gala Night at Camelot.

In its organization and efficiency, the Mothers' Club has fulfilled its purpose of enhancing the education here at U. of D. High.

One of the most spirited and active organizations at U. of D. High is the Dads' Club. Dedicated to "the best for the boys," the dads boost school spirit and bridge the gap between the teacher and the taught. In both the regular meetings and the numerous special events, the Dads' Club creates the cordial atmosphere necessary for the faculty and fathers to co-ordinate efforts for the school.

The Dad's Club sponsored several successful events this year. First, "Meet the Faculty Night" introduced the faculty to the fathers in a night of shortened classes. Fun and entertainment were afforded to parents and faculty alike during the "Las Vegas Nite." And to enhance their sons' education, the Dads' Club held "Career Day," which featured a thorough survey of various careers presented through lectures by professional men.

The dads promote U. of D. High financially, too. It was through the generous work of the Dads' Club that such projects as the gymnasium and faculty addition were made possible.

In all of these projects, the U. of D. High Dads' Club has come through with the best.

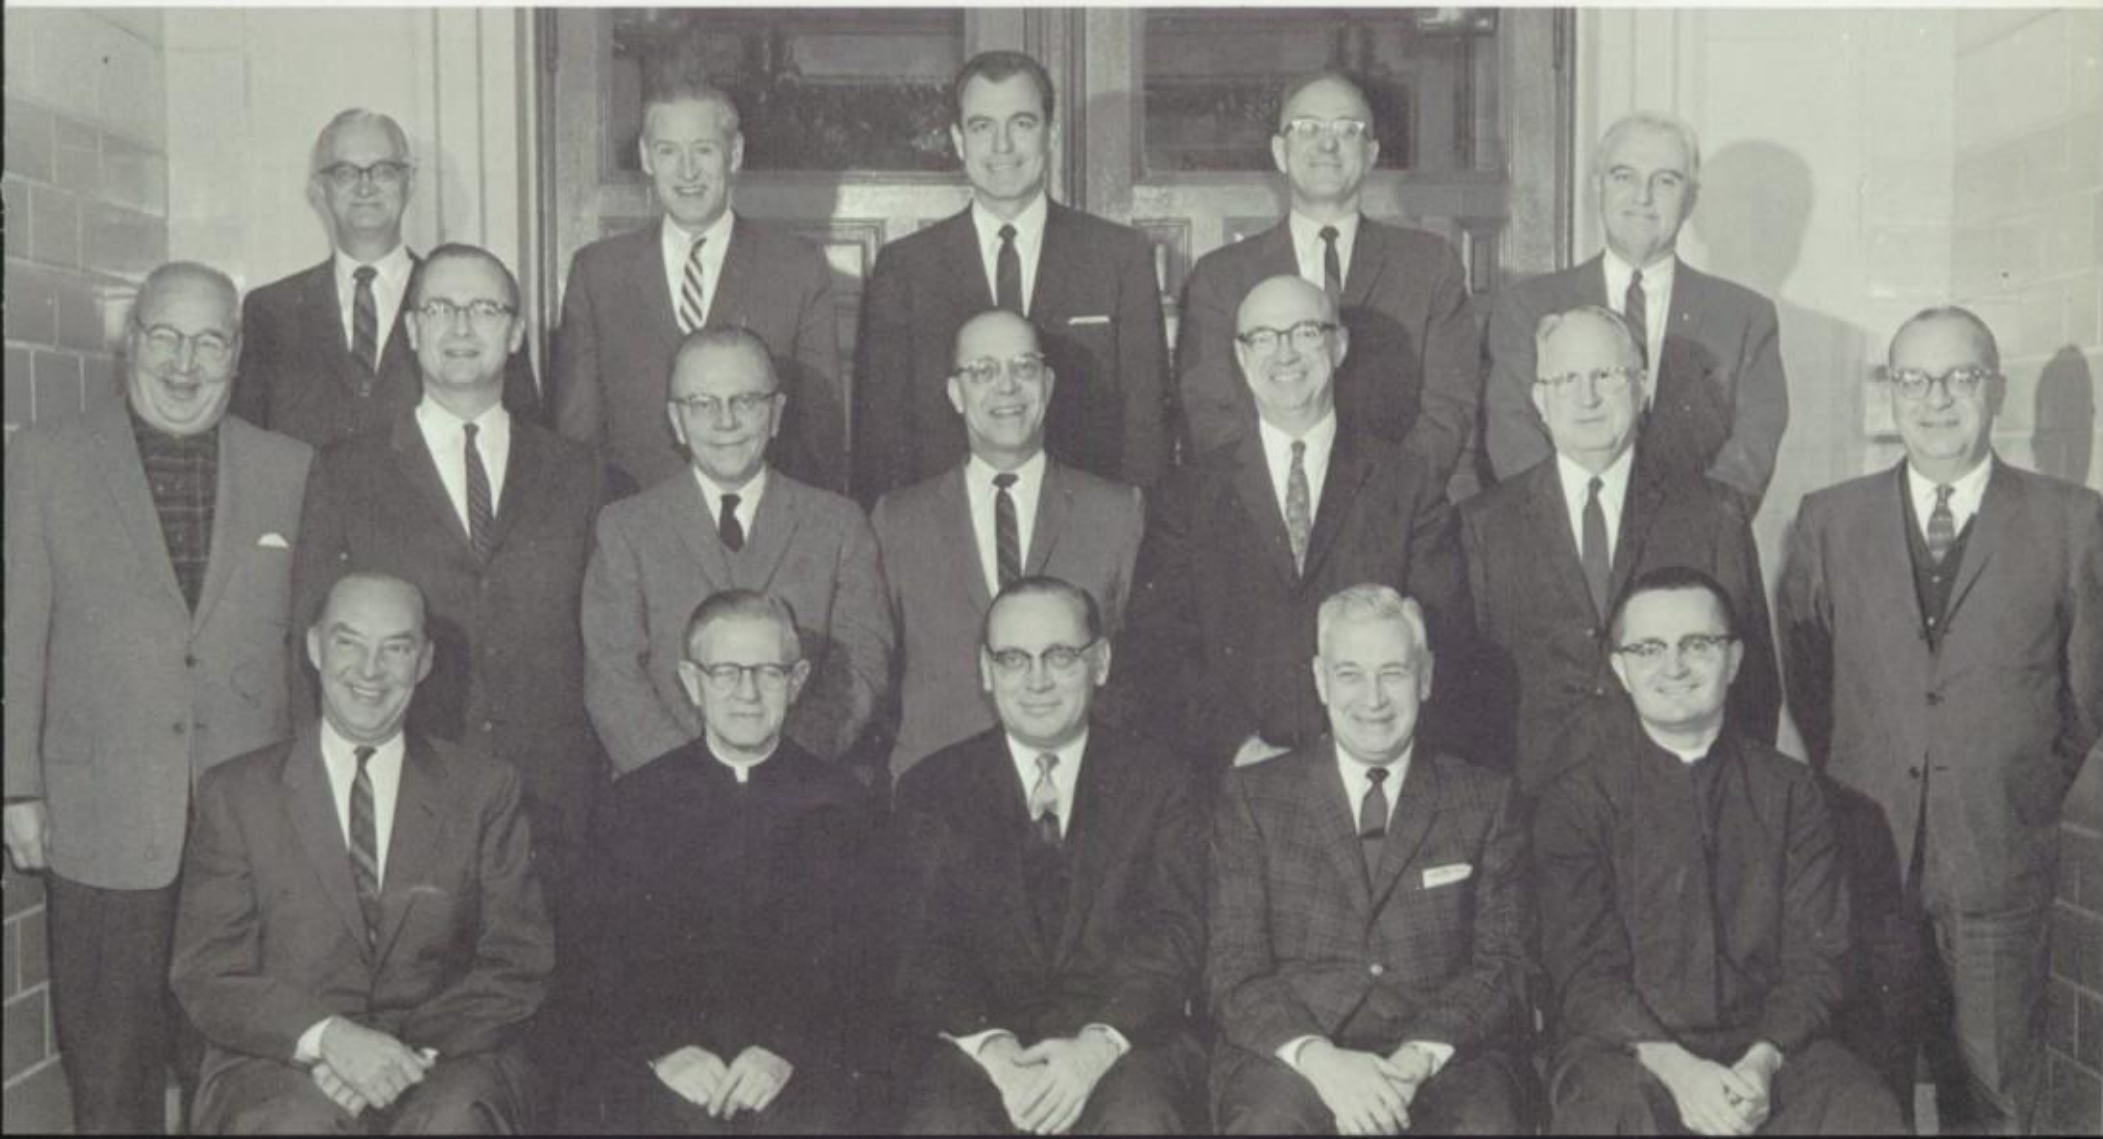

Fr. Feuerstein, S.J. explains school program to parents at Dads' Club meeting.

Daytime Druids arise from afternoon classrooms,

Venturing down to extra-curricular haunts.

Untied ties, loose shirttails —

Lost deadlines, chewed nails,

Poster-painted Mona Lisas

On tiled walls echoing with

Gavel disciplined forensic cries,

Tenored melodies, baritoned, bassed, harmonized

By the scepter sweep of a white baton.

Busy hours toil away,

And quiet with the 6 P.M. clock.

Stan Roe, Jim Bridenstine, and Mike Rich sort clothing donations.

In Senior year the Sodalists, under the watchful guidance of Mr. Frank Canfield, S.J., have carried out a well-organized program of in-school and extra-school apostolates. Besides the work at St. Francis Home For Boys and Casa Maria, the Seniors organized and carried out a highly successful Christmas drive and a program of extended discussions with Sodalists of other schools. The Senior Sodalists find this work an excellent means for perfecting themselves in the Sodality Way of Life.

Dedication to God

Al Church fulfills his Sodality apostolate at the St. Francis Home.

The Junior members of the Sodality carry out an expanded program of social apostolates and devotion to Our Lady. The third year men, moderated by Mr. Paul Kope, S.J., give religious instruction and help tutor students in need of scholastic assistance. The Sodalists continue their efforts at St. Francis Home, Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital, and also work at Casa Maria Recreation Center.

Junior Sodalists:

Row 1 (left to right): Kronk, Herbst, Cashero, Hopcian, Mr. Paul M. Kope, S.J., Citkowski, Tymowski, Joseph, Scullin. Row 2: Philips, Norris, Hoffman, Lorenz, McElroy, Pillon, Patrick, Edgar. Row 3: Brady, Kavanagh, Gallagher, Arata, Reichel, Schervish, Cappuccitti, Mehlenbacher, Voglewede. Row 4: Lipscomb, Blackwell, Horlick, Gayney, Montie, King, Church, Belknap, Major. Row 5: O'Keefe, Thomson, Foucher, Gallini, Stone, Rosenberg, Mahalek, Gary. Row 6: McKanna, Vincent, Trese, Brezinski, Donahue, Delany, McDonald, Sobesky.

In second year, Sodalists are introduced to active social apostolates. In 1963 the Sophomores worked among the sick at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital and helped supervise the recreation of the boys at St. Francis Home. Mr. Robert Majzler, S.J., organized the Sophomore's progress in the Sodality way of life.

Sophomore Sodalists:

SODALITY

Under the direction of Mr. Frank Canfield, S.J., the Senior Sodality introduced a new type of meeting for '63—the Sodality group discussion. The seniors break into small groups to review points brought up in the previous general meeting. Each Sodalist is able to express his opinions and discuss them with fellow members under the capable supervision of a discussion leader and watchful eye of a faculty moderator. The meeting ends with a mental prayer by one of the participants.

Carter Gerwins and Dick Stimpson lend their ideas to the Christmas Drive.

Sodality strives to bring the world to Christ and Christ to the world.

The Sodality Way of Life holds two basic meanings. First, the Sodality is truly way of life and should not be entered into for merely the duration of a high school career. A temporary joiner would certainly find more value in a different type of religious organization, for the Sodality is not a club for the high school or college student. It is, rather, a training period in which a member develops the norms by which he should guide his entire life. A Sodalist is not a Sodality member for a half hour on Wednesday afternoon or the five school days of the week.

Roy Kisiel draws the attention of some onlookers with his gaming ability.

SODALITY

A way of life

The Sodalist's spiritual life is externally portrayed through his social apostolate, and his material labor is firmly based on a spiritual composition. It is this combination of spiritual activity expressed in and supporting the social apostolate that characterizes the Sodality Way of Life.

STUDENT SENATE

Success characterizes
student government.

The co-ordinating unit between the student body and school administration at U. of D. High is the Student Senate. This elected body of classroom and activities representatives created, organized, and maintained a powerful U. of D. High image in 1963. In its entire scope, the Student Senate was characterized by success. This success was largely due to the continuous efforts of Fr. Robert Lab, S.J., and a group of student officers headed by President Tom Fitzpatrick.

DEBATE

Competitive spirit
backs debaters'
achievement.

The sharp competitive spirit of U. of D. High has been the driving force behind the '63 Debate team. Guided by Fr. Robert Pollauf, S.J., the debaters dove into their longest season of inter-scholastic competition. The varsity team of John Bertoni, Jim Wisner, Jim Conlan, and Steve Sawyer participated in city, state, and national contests. The reserve team of Bob Joseph, Lyle Mehlenbacher, Mike Kuras, and Forrest Hainline joined the varsity in rolling up an impressive number of points in Metro competition.

Craig Minbirole reviews Mike Surowiec's typing job on a Sports article.

Anxious to duplicate the success of last year's All-American editions, the editors and staff of this year's Cub News have continued to produce top-flight news magazines. Moderator Mr. Richard Vorwerk, S.J., and Editor-in-Chief John Desmond have utilized the literary manpower and facilities at their command. With a corps of experienced upperclass writers and an emerging group of underclass journalism aspirants, the Cub News presented diversified layouts and sparkling copy.

Paul Petlewski presented feature articles on topics varying from Greek Culture to the Student Convention. Dan Hallahan kept the school abreast of current happenings with his news section, and the athletic news of the year was capably handled by Mike Phelan. Thought-provoking editorials jumped from the pen of John Desmond, while Bill King and Ed Shumaker managed the business affairs.

Paul Petlewski trims a galley sheet to column dimensions.

Wrapped up in a dazzling package of creativity, energy, and non-conformity, the 1963 Cub Annual has emerged. For months the publication's birthplace could hardly be seen for the sea of layouts, photographs, sketches, and rubber cement. Under constant pressure to meet alarmingly close deadlines, the staff had little opportunity to survey the rubble about them until the yearbook went to press.

The colorful array of posters, banners, and signs decorating the halls and advertising school activities remains a distinctive characteristic of U. of D. High. This is the work of the Booster Club, the school advertising agency. With a new name, new moderator, and a combination of old and new talent, the Boosters carried on their tradition of quality work. Everything from Frosh Night to the C.C. games received the concentrated attention of the Booster Club artists. The talented scribblings of the Boosters played a significant role in arousing school spirit and keeping the student body up to date.

TECH CREW

Student engineers keep circuits open.

Tech Crew members labor backstage and behind the scenes during every school event. Besides playing records at sock hops, they set up public address systems for sports events and student assemblies. Under the faculty guidance of Fr. Joseph Gesing, S.J., Mr. Richard Cherry, S.J., and Mr. John Macy, S.J., the student electricians keep the school's electronic equipment in efficient operation.

Tech Crew members also handled the challenging lighting arrangements and sound effects at various stage productions.

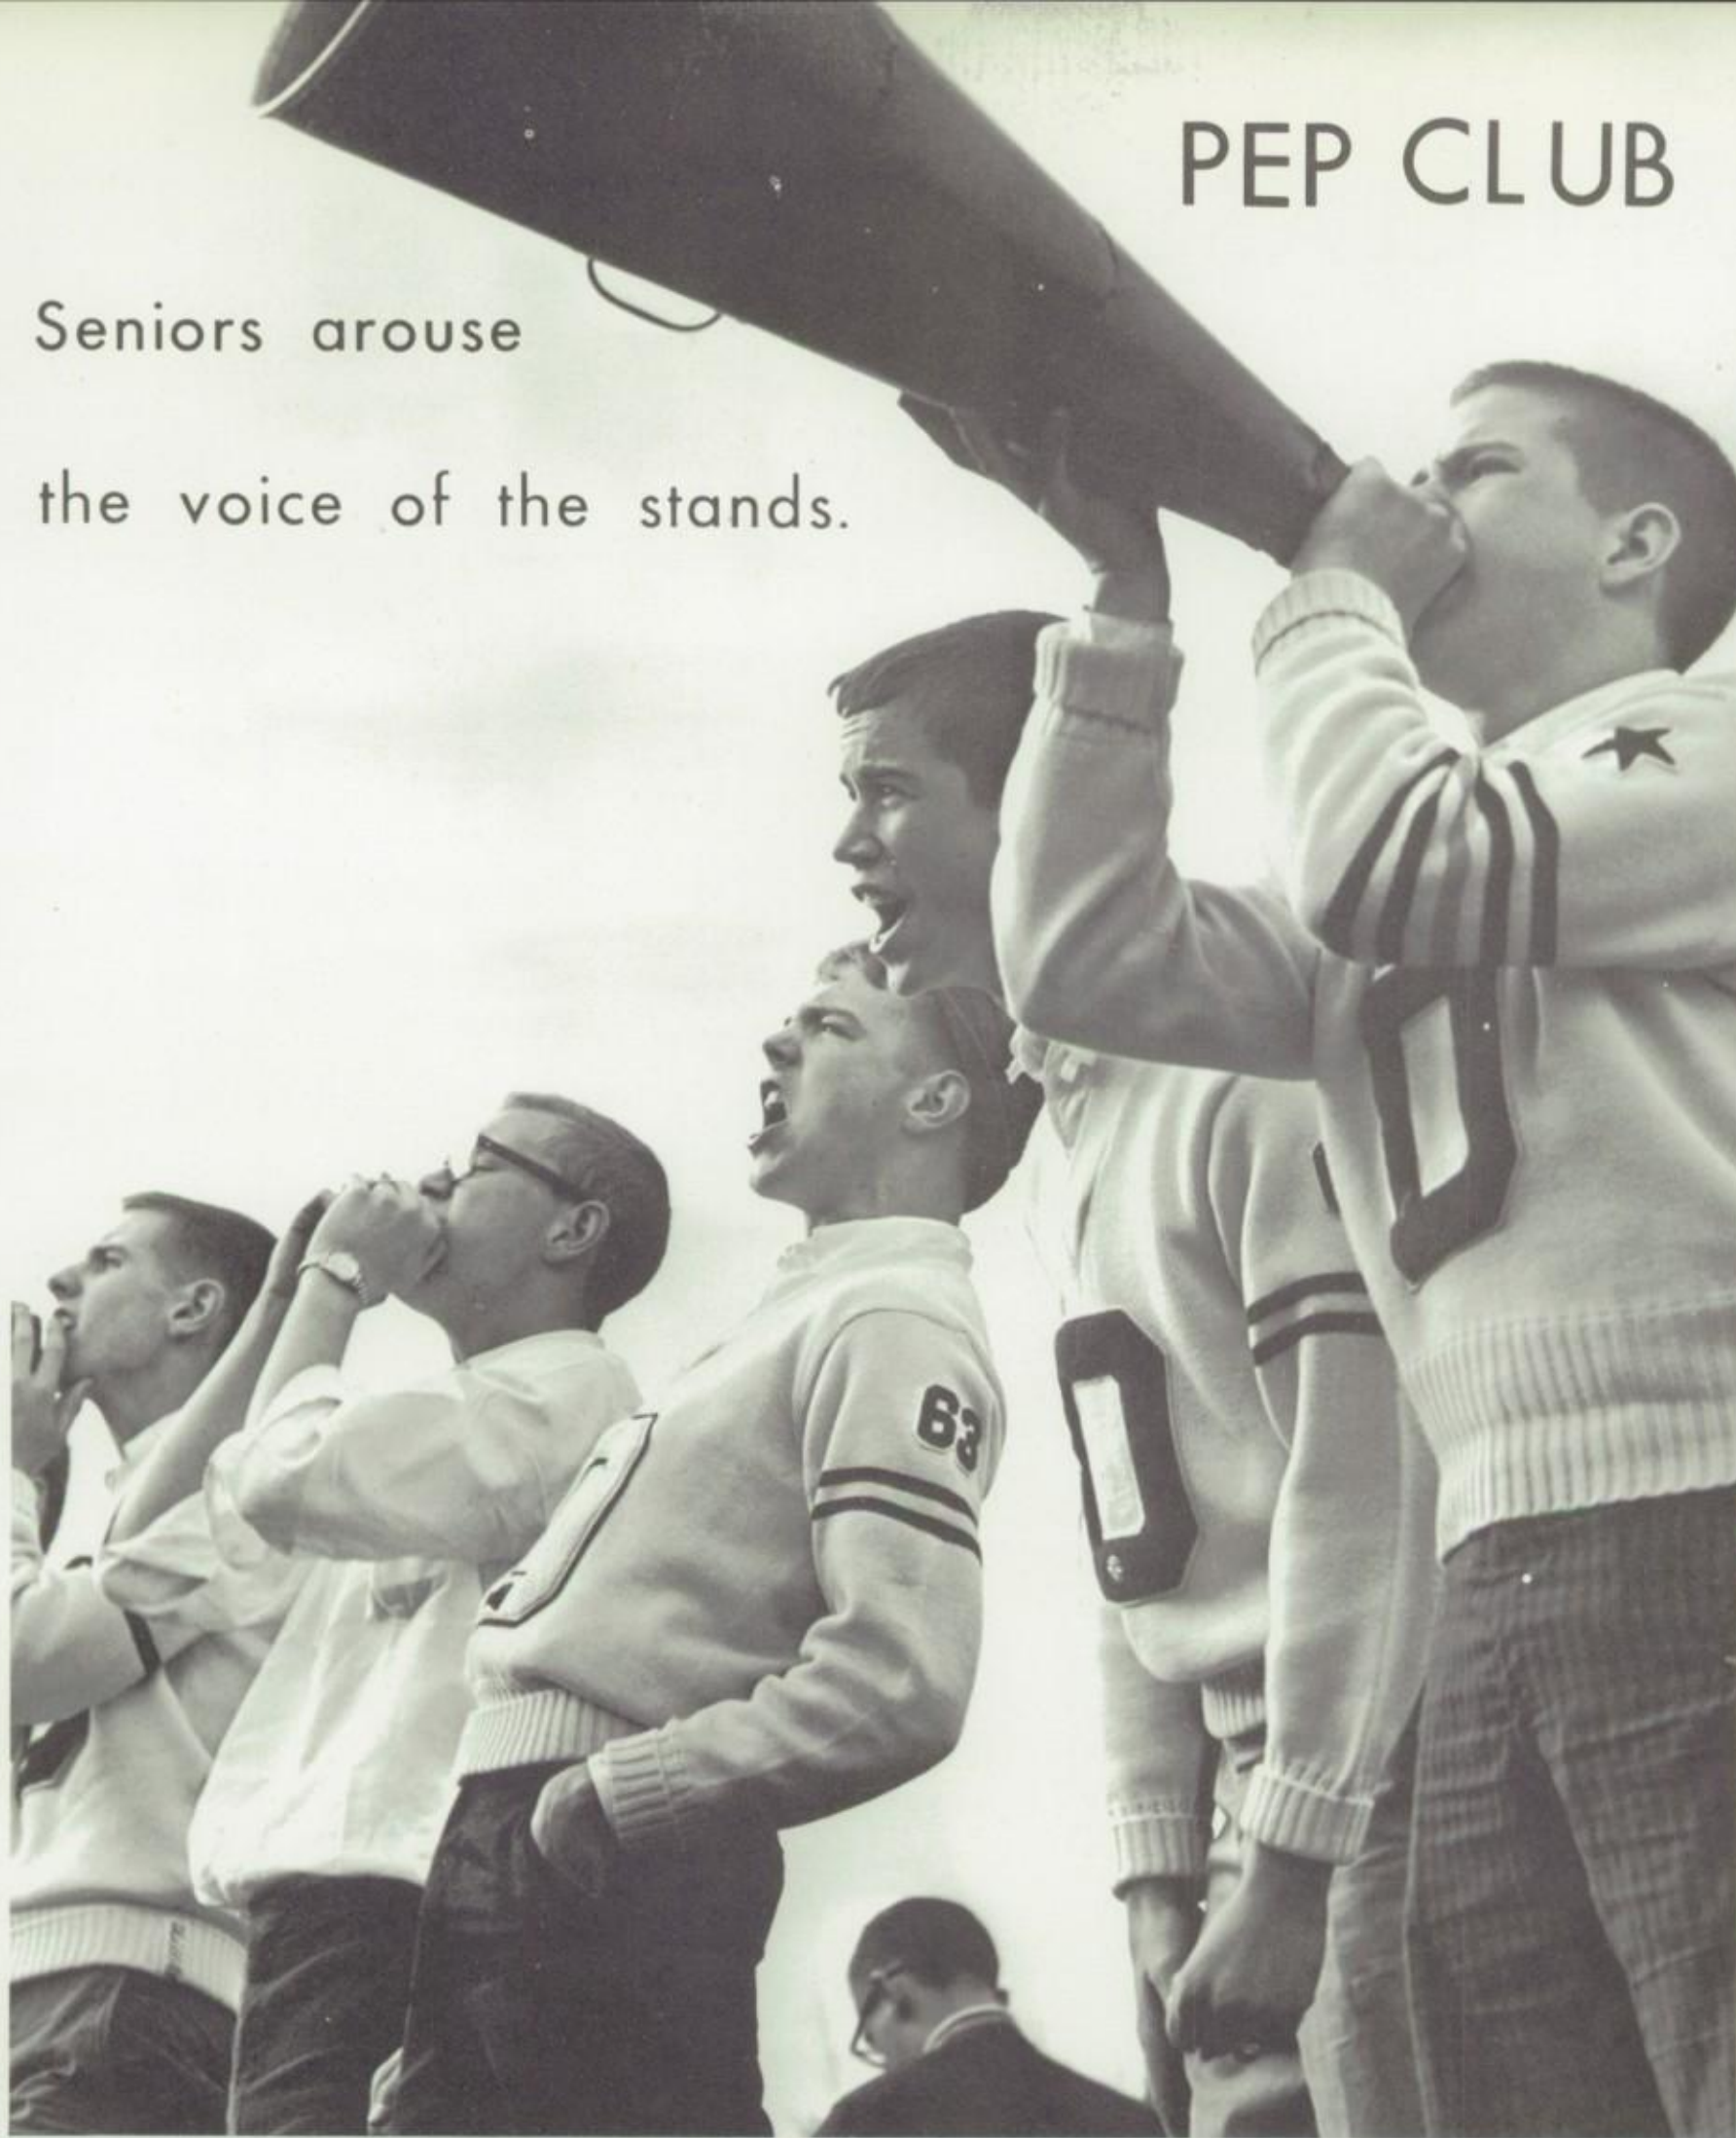

These men at the switches have done an excellent job in keeping the circuits open at U. of D. High.

Organized at the start of this year by Mr. Robert Welsh, S.J., the Pep Club was formed with the idea that spirit could be increased if cheering became spontaneous. This was accomplished by having Senior Class members initiate the voice of the stands at games and rallies. The athletic success of U. of D. High in '63 is a true measure of the Pep Club's effectiveness.

Sounds of harmony fill the band room Monday and Tuesday afternoons. Mr. George Assemany and Mr. Paul Kope, S.J., have blended twenty-nine different voices into a powerful unit. The Glee Club has provided many memorable programs of musical entertainment. A Christmas Concert, Mothers' Club appearance, and a highly successful Spring Concert highlighted the group's performances.

Freshman jewels and sophomore cools

And the heirs-apparent Juniors.

Our signs crawl over the school,

Cafeteria crumbs, colorful jokes,

And compass-carved love affairs in ancient oak,

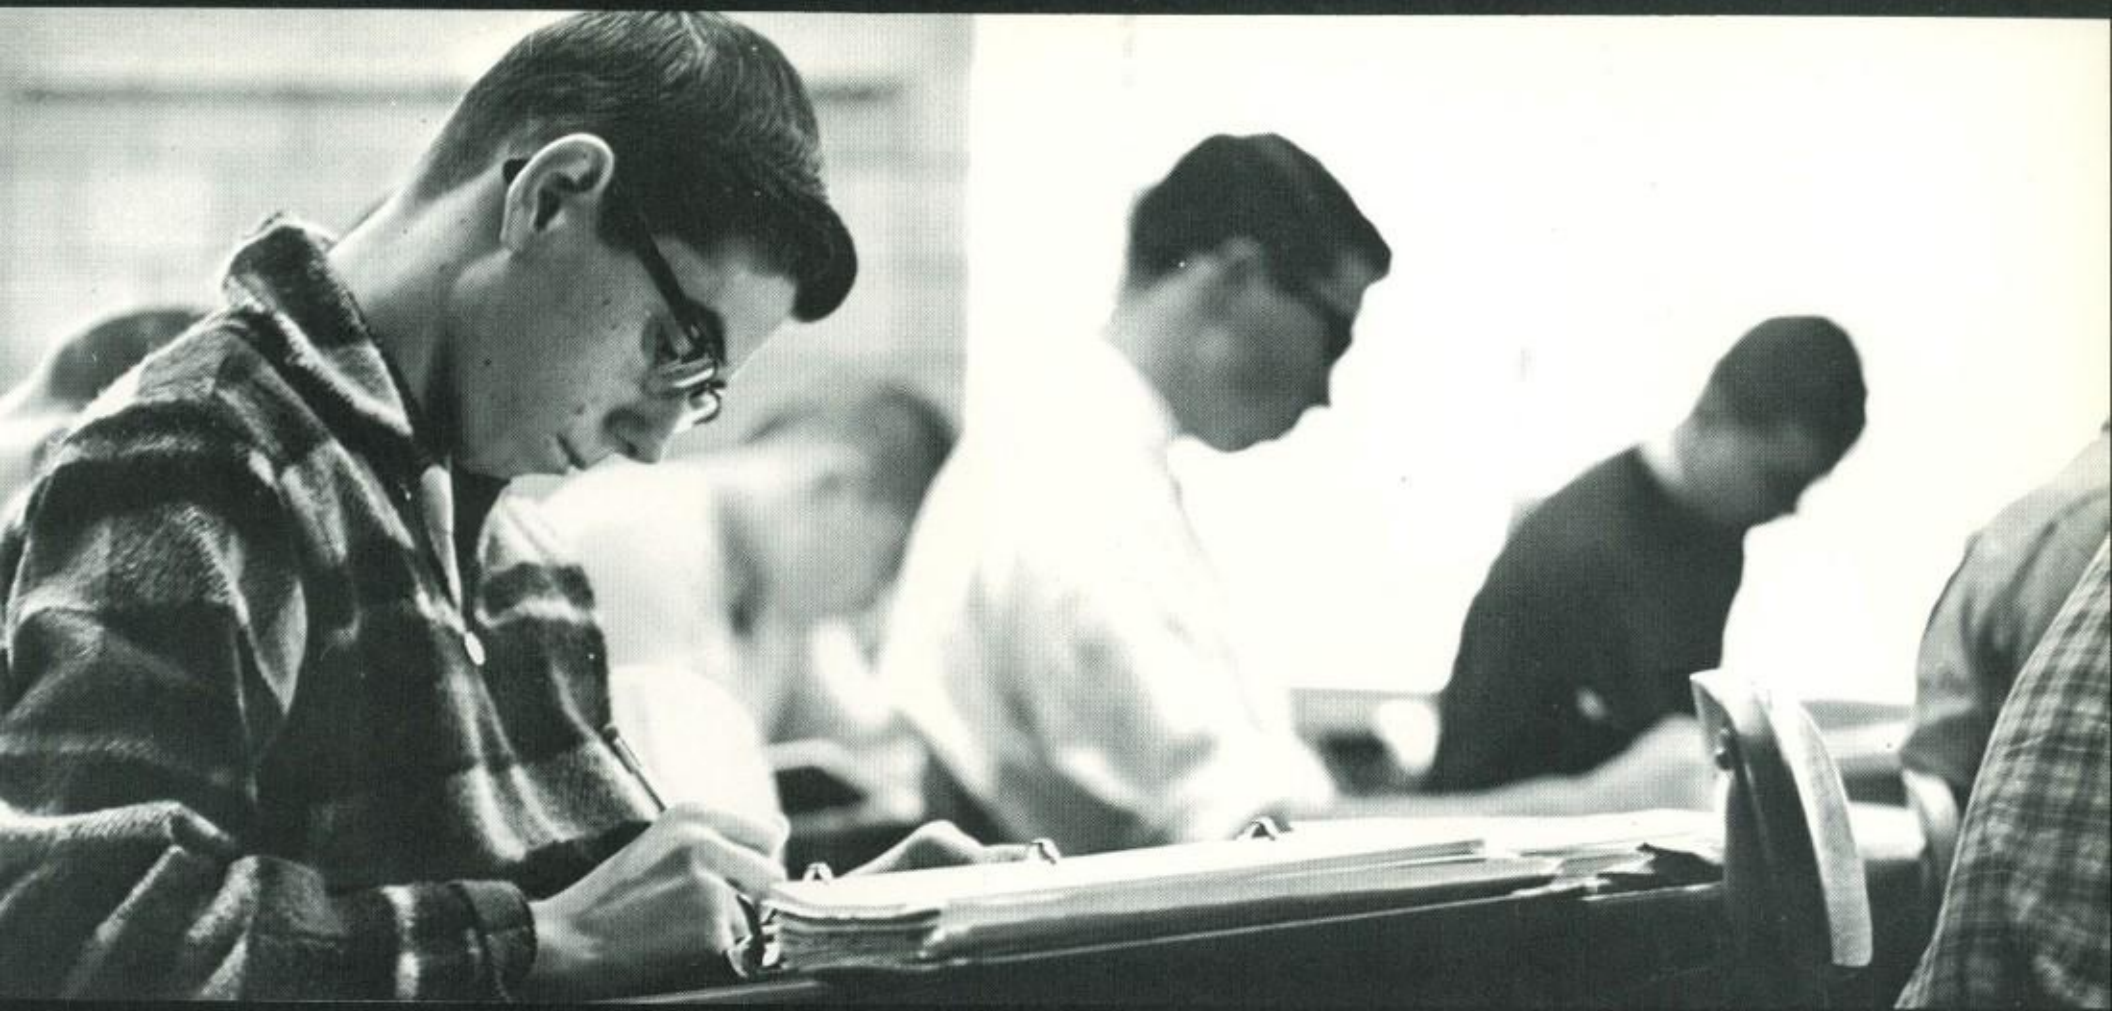

Glossy-covered books, recaptioned with wit.

Uniformed Uniquely

White-socked, open-collared, unringed.

The campus clowns, the teacher hounds.

Listen to the tinkle of medals on our chests!

Observe the sweater —

The Maroon edged "D"

Barber-poled sleeves

And Captain stars.

Tiled halls echo our footsteps

Everyone smiles respectfully —

"Here he comes: B.M.O.C.!"

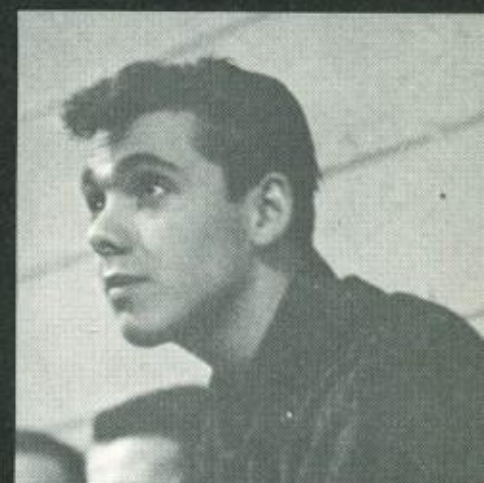

Our home away from home — the noble lounge,

There to mingle with other elevated mortals —

The senior-ringed school kings.

Seniors

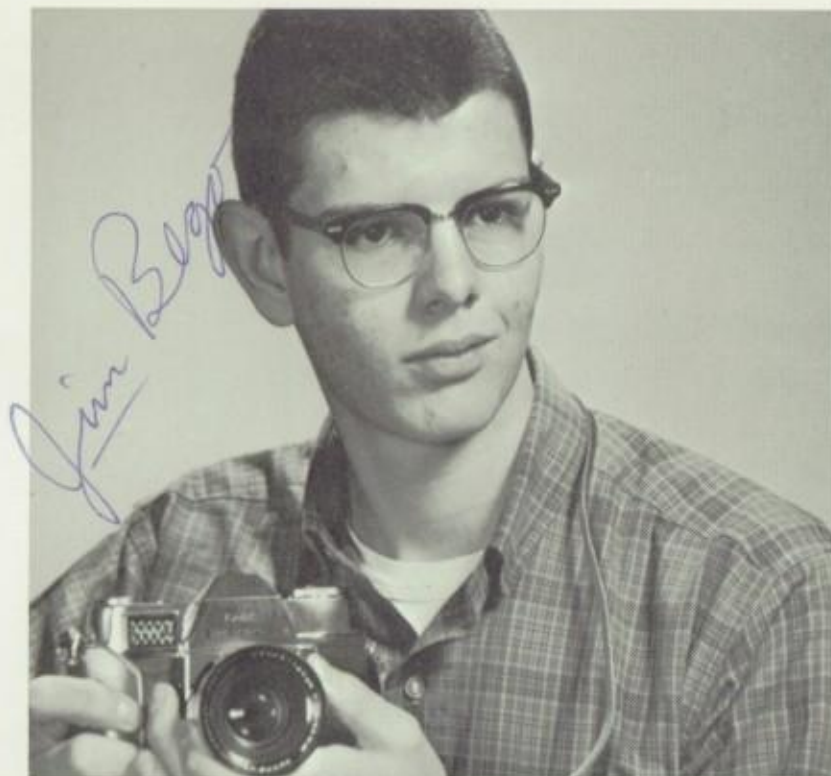

My dear Seniors,

One of my former students tells me that after a short conversation he can spot a man who has been trained by the Jesuits; "Somehow," he says, "he is different." After four years of that training you too are different from what you were as ebullient freshmen in September, 1959.

Now that you are leaving us, we are confident that you are not only different but also better—intellectually, socially, spiritually, and that in the years ahead each of you will, in his own unique way, reveal in his life the spirit of the Jesuit motto, "Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam." If you do, perhaps men will, and certainly the good Lord will, recognize you as Jesuit-trained men true to the spirit of the education which you received here. God bless you always!

Sincerely yours in our Lord,

Julian L. Maline, S.J.

Of man and muscles I sing:

Of helmeted elevens in October leaves,

Battered from the front,

Cheered on the sides.

Red T-shirts against fields of white

Moving downcourt against a basketball's rhythm.

The orange ball makes the net whisper

And back we go.

We struggle, We fight

On battlefields of circling cinders,

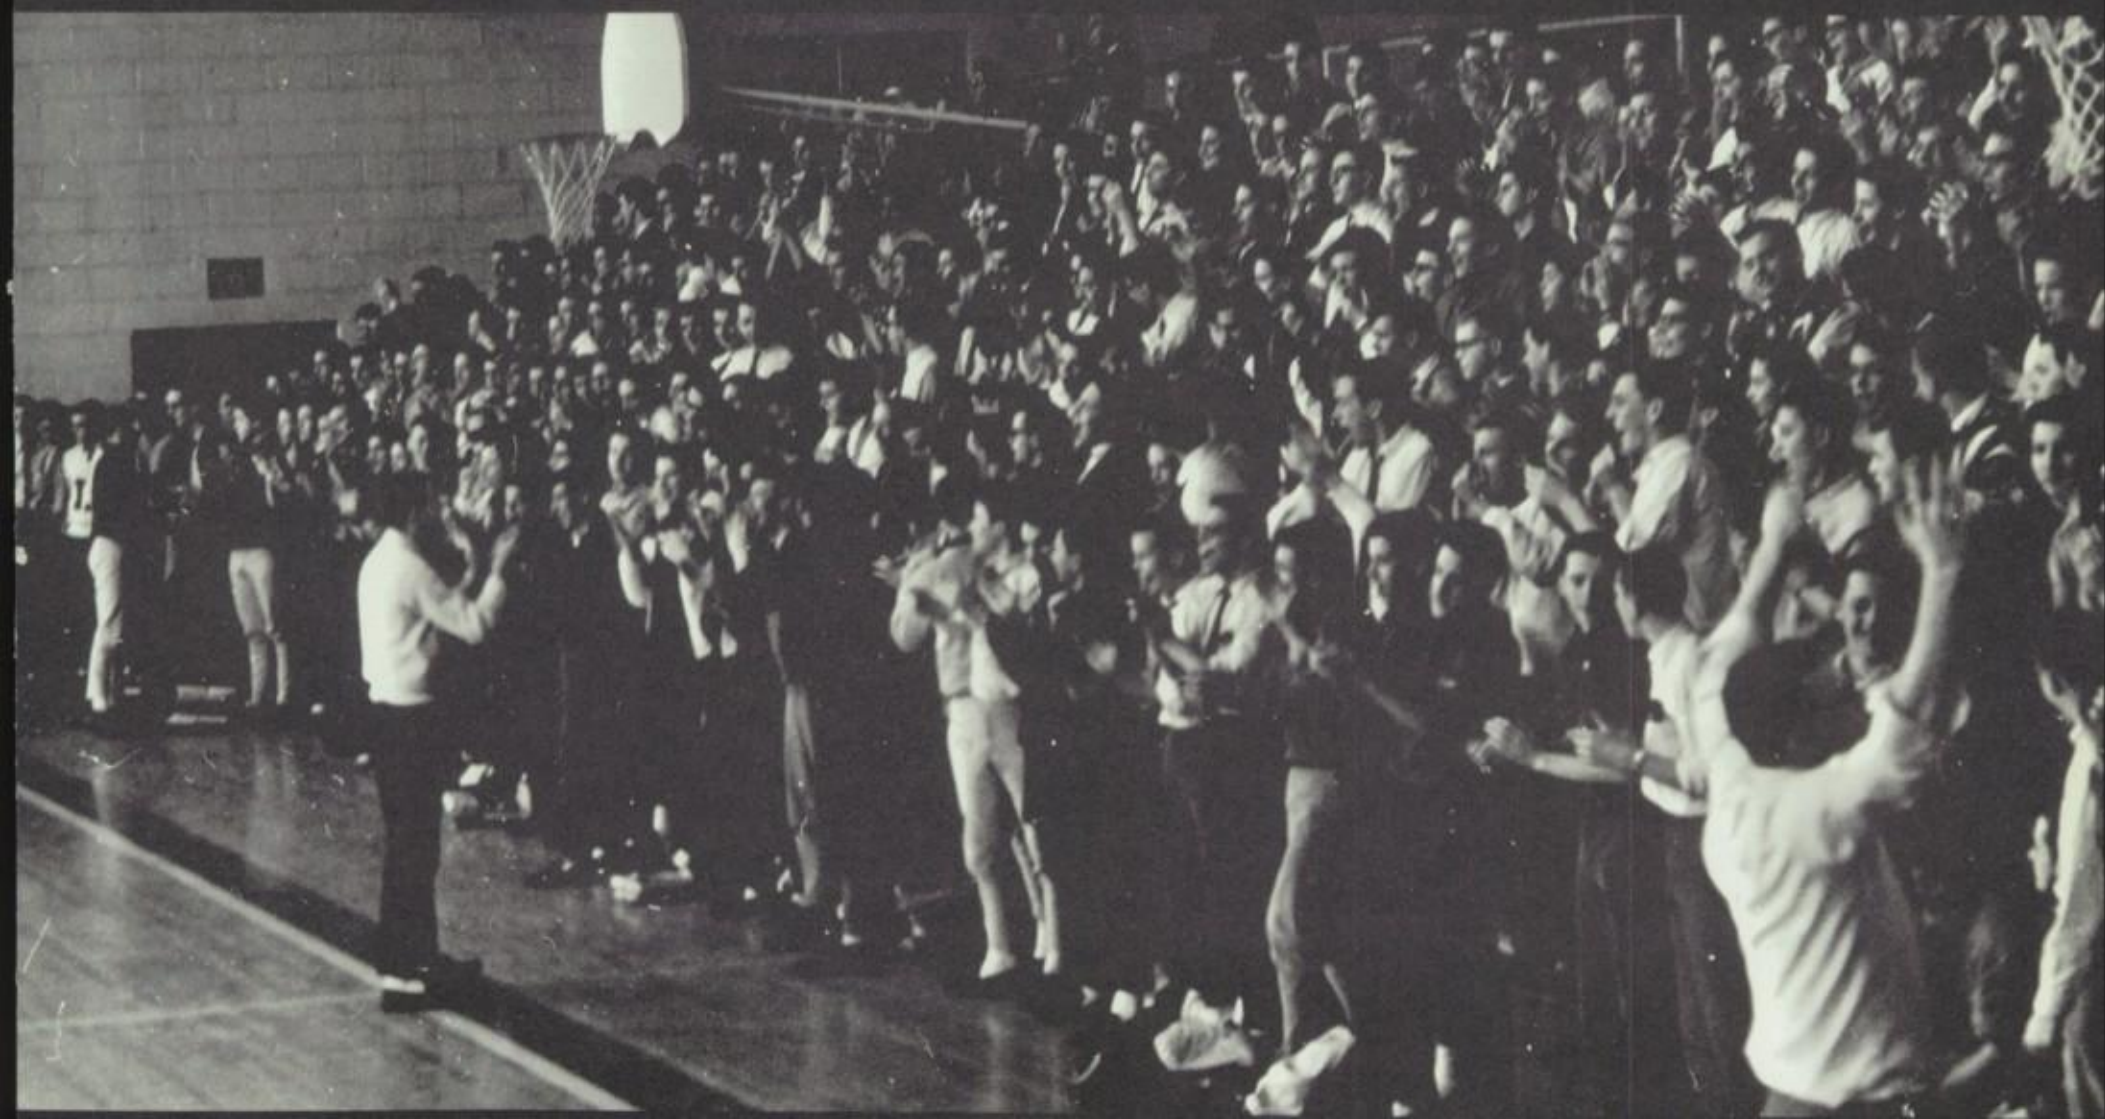

Hard clay diamonds . . .

For school, for fame, for fun,

For kicks, for felt D's on V-necked wool.

CUBS COME BACK

Not since the comeback of 1959 has a U. of D. High football team displayed the determination and fighting spirit which marked the 1962 edition of the Cub Varsity.

Guided by coaches Mr. James Leary, Mr. Joseph Pascuzzi, and Mr. Daniel Comer, the Cubs fought back after dropping their first two games to win their last five games in league competition. The Cubs worked Mr. Leary's multiple offense to perfection in running up a total of 1863 yards. The sterling play of the defensive platoon stood out all season long.

Highlight of an exciting season was a 29-6 pasting of Catholic Central.

Quarterback Phil Stenger relays a play at a crucial moment.

John Ewing and Jim Blaznek trap a Pilot back for a big loss.

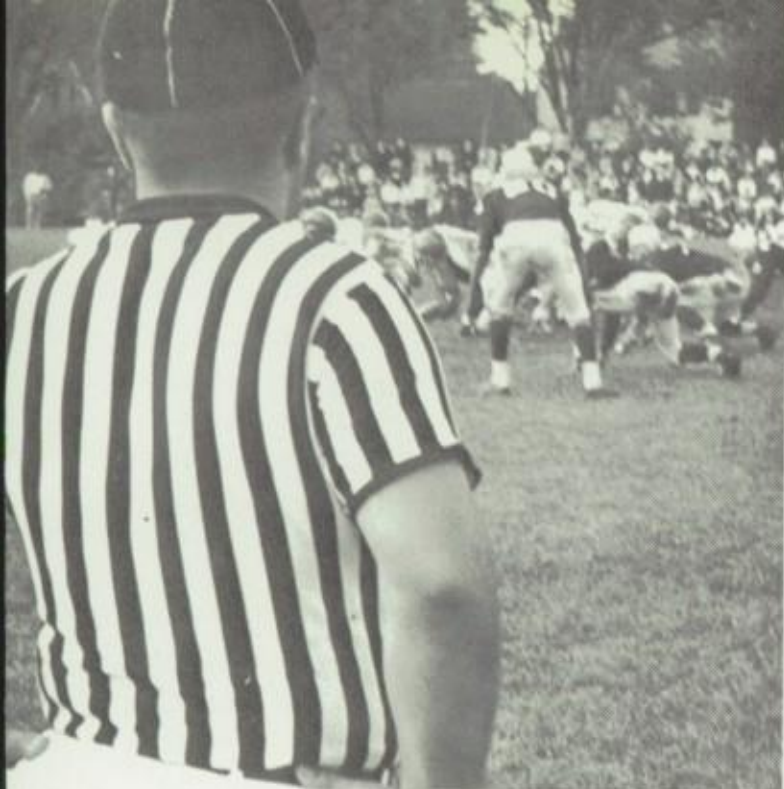

The 1962 football season opened with the U. of D. High Cubs meeting a hustling Notre Dame eleven. The first quarter, teeming with penalties, saw no scoring. An Irish touchdown in the second period was the first score of the game. But on the opening play of the second half, Bill Bonner barrelled through most of the Notre Dame team and ran the ball sixty-nine yards to tie the score. The narrowly missed conversion seemed of little importance then. The stubborn Irish quickly battled back with another touchdown and the decisive extra point. In the fourth quarter, the hard-running Bonner knifed through the Irish line in a bid for victory, as he rambled thirty-two yards for his second score. Although the extra-point attempt failed, U. of D. High walked off the field knowing they had a winning team.

Jack Curley rambles through a gaping hole in the Notre Dame defense.

The fighting spirit of the team, the student body, and the faculty was at a peak as the opening whistle blew. The inspired Cubs were primed for an upset of the heavily-favored Salesian Knights. In the opening period, Jack Curley completed a perfect double-reverse to open the game's scoring. At the end of the first half U. of D. High led 7-6. Everything pointed to a tooth and nail struggle all the way. But the game exploded when the Knights scored twice in the third period and once in the fourth.

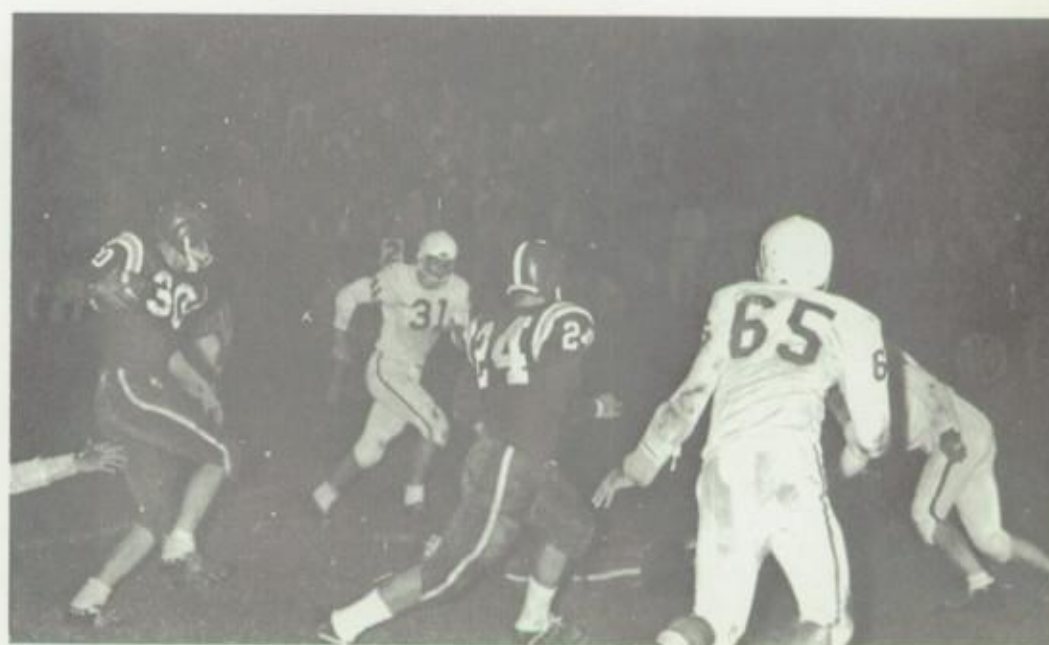

There was only one explanation for the second straight Cub loss: lack of experience. Everything else needed for victory was already in evidence.

A linesman's view of the U. of D. High—St. Joe action.

Unconquered in the previous four seasons by the Cubs, De La Salle finally succumbed to an awesome U. of D. High offensive show, to the tune of 12-6. The hard-nosed Cub offense completely dominated the game with an amazing total of 305 yards. Although the Cubs had three early chances to score; penalties and fumbles killed all drives, leaving the score 0-0 at the half. In the third period the Cubs drove from their own thirty-five yard line to the Pilot end zone. Later the Pilots pushed deep into Cub territory and scored. But a tremendous drive originating on their own thirty yard line brought the Cubs downfield, and John Goode supplied the winning margin with a five yard burst off tackle.

Smarting after two straight defeats, the Cubs took the field determined to get on the winning track. But an out-manned St. Joe squad proved to be no match for the Cubs. The U. of D. High offense dominated throughout the game and drove down the field for four touchdowns. Bob Kramb, John Goode, Gary Rosenberg, and Chuck Gembis all hit the scoring column on short runs. The lone Bluejay score was set up by an electrifying runback of a Cub kickoff. This first Cub victory finally brought satisfaction to a cheering section that never wavered in its support of its team.

Bill Bonner breaks away on a sixty-nine yard scoring jaunt.

Tom Nosewicz stops a Notre Dame speedster with a driving tackle.

Chuck Gembis booms out a sixty-five yard punt.

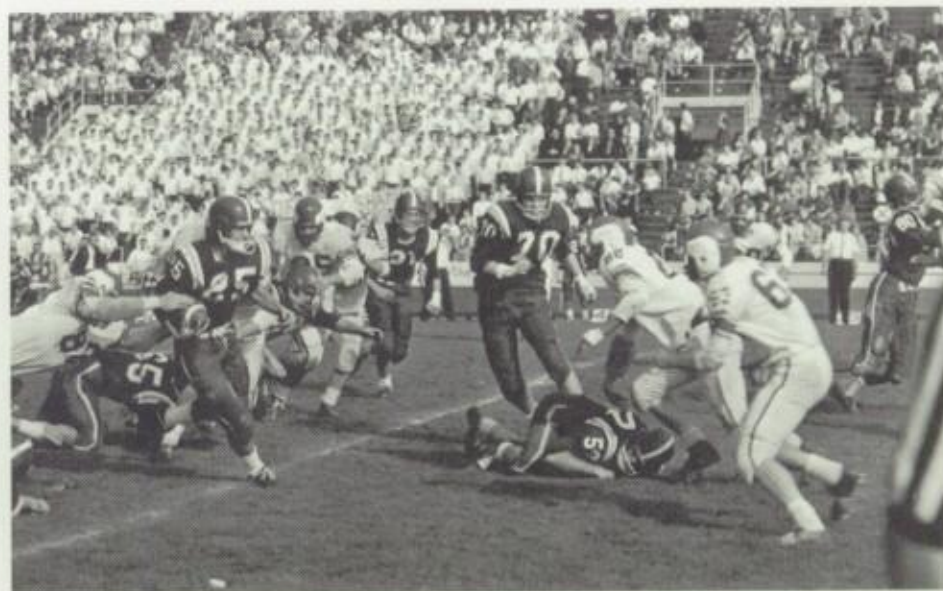

The impregnable Cub pass defense thwarts another CC attempt.

A game's tension reflected in the faces of coach and team.

A 1961 shellacking at the hands of Catholic Central fired up the Cub eleven as well as the entire student body. With a combined all-out effort, U. of D. High both outplayed and out-cheered the Shamrocks in the fast-moving game. U. of D. High opened the scoring, trapping CC for a safety. The play was set up by a booming sixty-five yard punt by Chuck Gembis. The Cubs scored again early in the second period, with the Shamrocks following with their lone tally. A pass to John Wilson upped the score at 15-6 at the half. In the second half, two pin-point passes from Gembis to Greg Robichaud and John Goode finished the scoring giving the Cubs a well-earned 29-6 victory over a completely demoralized Shamrock squad.

On a miserable rainy Saturday afternoon, the Cubs met the Wildcats from Cathedral on a drenched, storm-swept Foley Field. In the midst of a score of fumbles and interceptions, there was only one touchdown scored between the two teams. The score came early in the first quarter on a pass from Chuck Gembis to Mike Adamy. The remainder of the game was a mass scramble in a maze of mud. As it turned out, the victory had an unusually high price. Both Chuck Gembis and John Goode sustained injuries which kept them from playing in the remaining games. But even this calamity couldn't put a damper on the soaring school spirit.

An alert Cub defense recovers an Austin fumble

Hard-nosed defensive action in the Austin tilt.

A homecoming parade representing the hard work of fourteen classes and a great team effort in a hard-fought football game proved to be one of the highlights of the 1962 season.

Shortly after the opening kickoff, the Friars drew first blood with a touchdown on an end sweep. But they didn't quit here. Only moments later, an alert Austin defender snared an errant pass and carried Austin to a twelve-point lead.

But the Cubs were thinking of only one thing: victory. The powerful Cub offense drove downfield in a sustained effort. The halftime score read 12-7 when Bonner rammed over for the score.

In the third quarter, the Cubs moved to another touchdown on the strength of a Phil Stenger to Tom Nosewicz pass, to complete a typical come-from-behind victory to end a come-from-behind season.

SENIOR

A great portion of the success of the comeback of the 1962 U. of D. High football team can be traced to the fine play and leadership of the senior members of this year's Varsity.

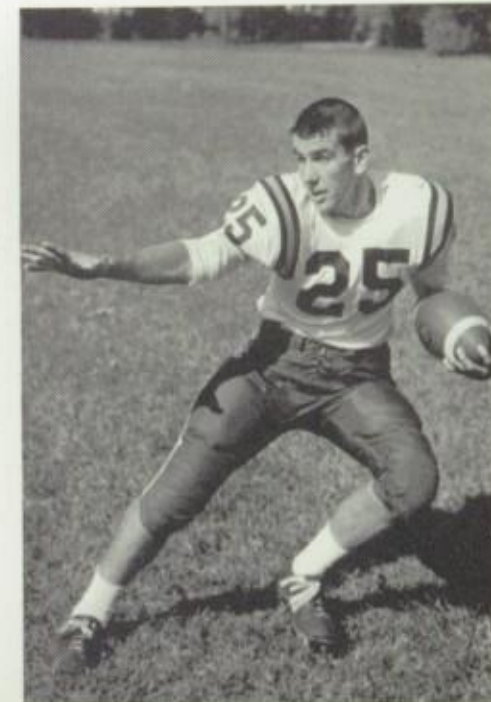

The tough Cub defense was spearheaded by linemen Dan Skomra, Gerry Young, and Mike Egger; and defensive backs John Wilson, Jim Blaznek, and Phil Stenger.

1962 offensive stalwarts included ends Tom Nosewicz, Mike Adamy, and Greg Robichaud; and halfbacks Bob Kramb, Bill Bonner, and Jack Curley.

These veteran performers supplied the know-how and experience which combined with the Junior zeal and enthusiasm to lead the Cubs to a respectable third place finish in the Central Division.

RESERVES TAKE TITLE

For the second consecutive year, under the tutelage of Mr. William H. Dodd, S.J., the U. of D. High Reserve football team won the Central Division Reserve Championship.

The scoring of Brian Donlon, the passing of Tom Tybinka, the line play of Eric Kliener and John Przybycien, and the running of Jim Spalding and Bob Stier highlighted an undefeated season. The Cub Reserves shut out Cathedral and De La Salle and ran over Catholic Central 33-14 en route to their title.

During his two title-winning seasons, Mr. Dodd, S.J., has uncovered a great deal of football talent which should be of help to future Varsity teams.

FRESHMEN BREAK EVEN

In their first season of high school competition, this year's Freshman football team battled its way to a 3-3-1 record. Coached by Mr. Patrick Hussey, S.J., and Mr. Joseph Rodriguez, the Frosh conquered Salesian, Austin, and Brother Rice; while tying Catholic Central.

The offensive strength supplied by Bill Thigpen, Don Dolan, John Williams, and Dave Widlak was complemented by a top-notch defense headed by Joe Gardner, Gary Talpos, Norm Kilgore, and Bruno Ragan.

Throughout their season, the freshmen displayed a competitive spirit that marked them as a typical U. of D. High team.

What many thought would be a rebuilding season for U. of D. High crystallized into an exciting and challenging season for a talented group of Cub cagers.

The Cubs vaulted off to a fast start with four straight victories. A disappointing loss to Catholic Central sparked the Cubs, and they went on to topple Austin from the unbeaten ranks. They retained their first-place standing until a pressing Notre Dame team upset them.

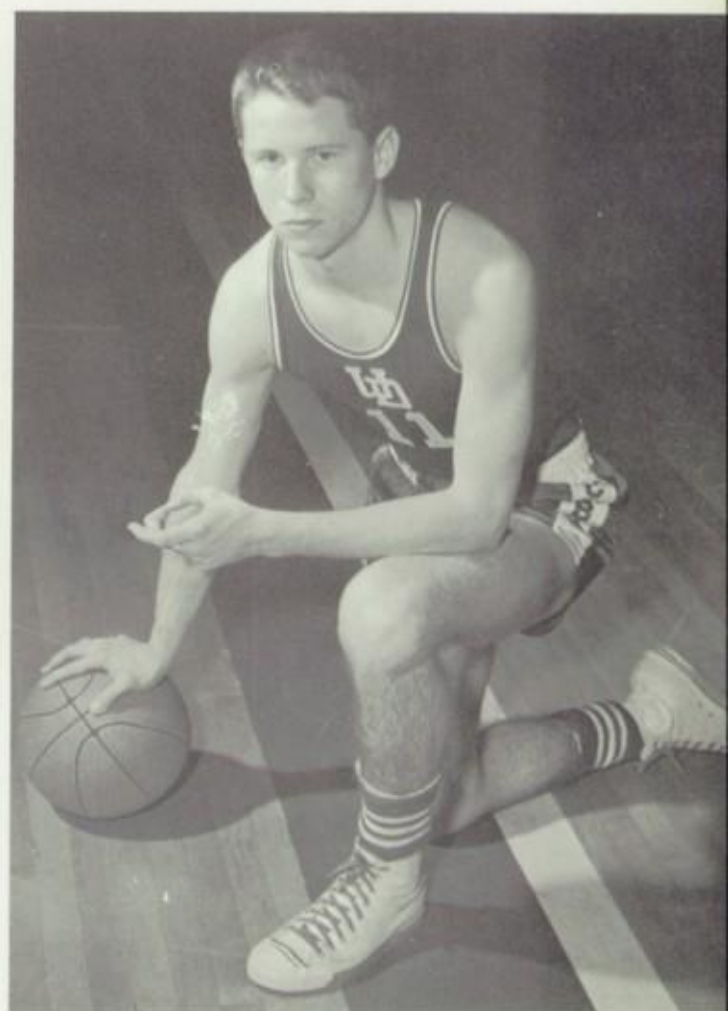

The following week, with first place at stake, the Cubs succumbed to a strong Catholic Central quintet for the second time. Final evaluation found the Cubs mired in fourth place, their title hopes having vanished.

DE LA SALLE: The hustling Cubs opened their season with a resounding 64-44 victory of De La Salle. The hapless Pilots were dominated by the Cubs' unerring shooting accuracy and fierce rebounding. Juniors Conway and Williams paced the Cubs' initial victory.

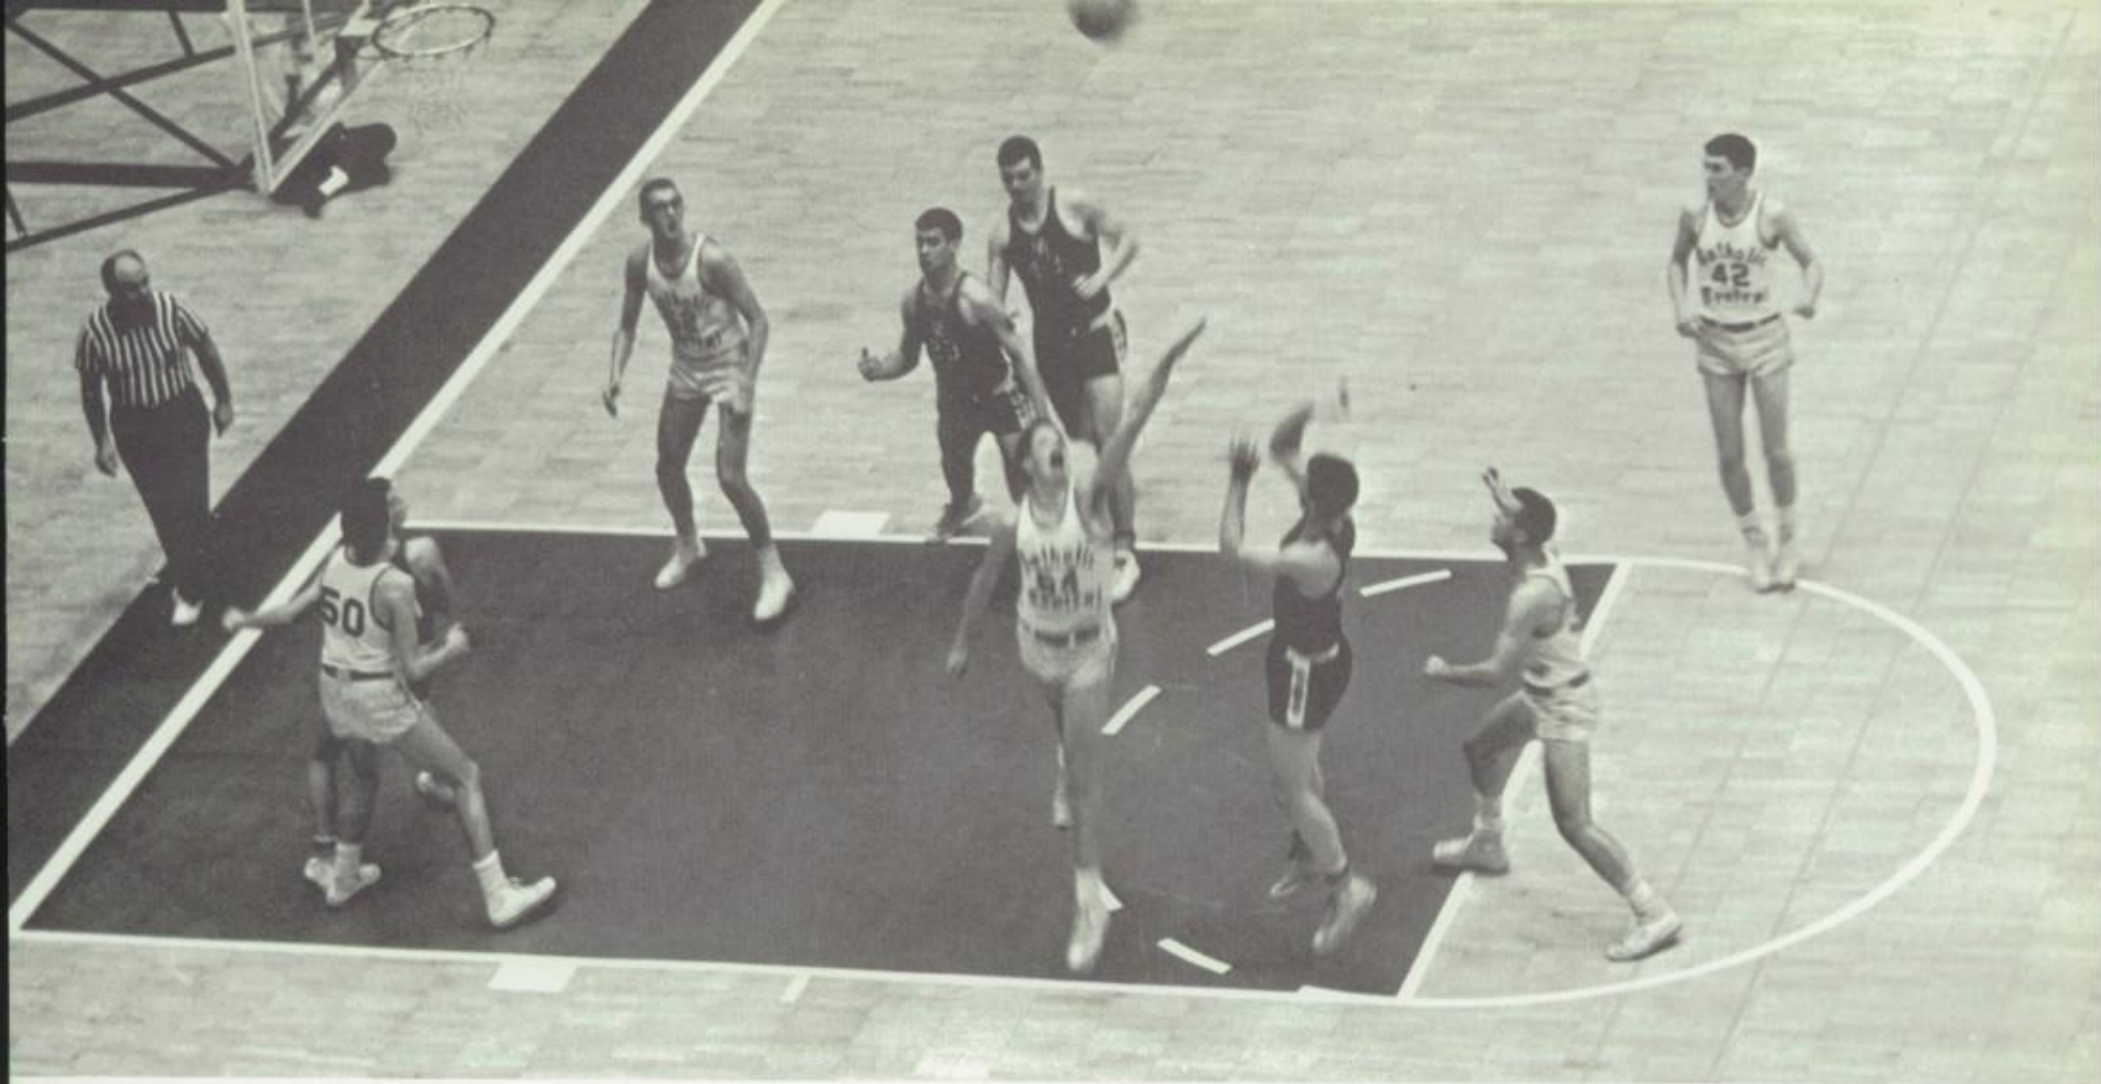

ST. JOSEPH: The Bluejays proved to be little competition as the Cubs rolled to their second straight victory. Leading from the opening tip, the Cubs built up a 33-16 halftime edge and were never headed. Conway, Griffin, and Hoff spearheaded the Cubs' attack.

CATHEDRAL: Captain Denny Tracey recovered from an ankle injury in time to lead the Cubs to victory over the Wildcats.

NOTRE DAME: The Cubs waited until the final minutes to overwhelm an upset-minded Irish quintet. The foul shooting accuracy of Conway and the rebounding of Griffin highlighted the victory which was the Cubs' first taste of real competition.

Cubs Hold Lead

CATHOLIC CENTRAL: Errant passing and cold shooting led to the first defeat for the Cub five at the hands of the Shamrocks. Catholic Central solved the Cubs stalling tactics to put away a 52-48 victory. Calihan and Griffin led in scoring while Williams took rebounding honors.

SALESIAN: The Cubs regained their winning form with a 74-36 lacing of Salesian. Conway led the offensive thrust, while Calihan's defensive play was outstanding.

AUSTIN: The importance of team play was demonstrated as the Cubs toppled the Friars from the unbeaten ranks and moved into a tie for the league lead. The offensive strength of Conway, Williams, and Griffin coupled with a standout defensive effort led the Cubs to an upset 61-53 victory.

DE LA SALLE: The high-flying Cubs came back after a sluggish first half to down the De La Salle Pilots 57-49.

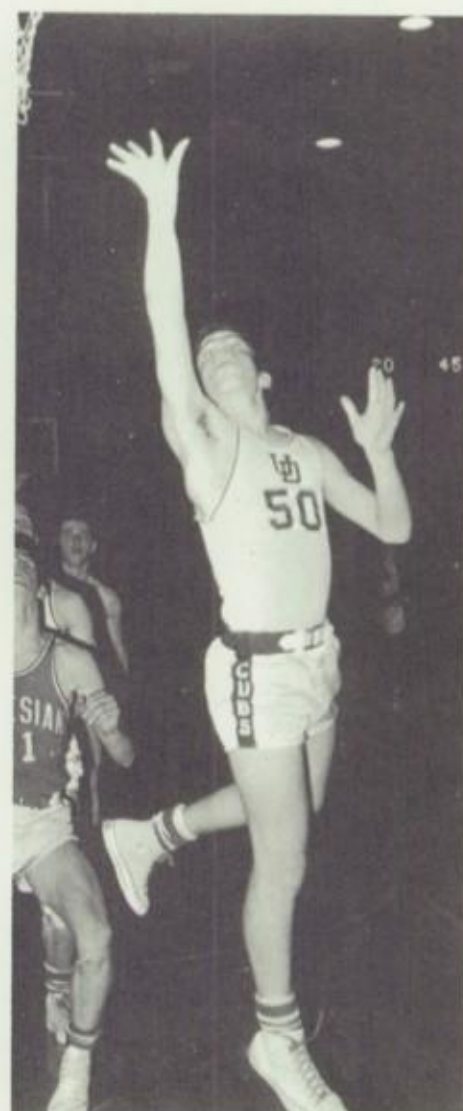

ST. JOSEPH: The Cubs retained their first place standing with an easy 75-47 trouncing of the Bluejays. Tracey, Conway, and Williams led the Cubs' attack.

CATHEDRAL: The Wildcat five proved to be a stubborn opponent, but they finally succumbed to Cub offensive strength in an unimpressive 50-39 Cub victory.

NOTRE DAME: The Cubs' title hopes were jolted by the pressing defense of a surprising Irish team. Notre Dame overcame the scoring of Conway, Williams, and Griffin to hand the Cubs their second defeat, 63-51.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL: Rarely can a season be summed up in a single game, but this was the case for the 1962-63 Cub cagers. The Cubs dropped a low-scoring contest to the Catholic Central Shamrocks 46-38, and with the defeat went the title hopes of the Cub five. And ineffective offense and a strong Shamrock defense spelled defeat for the Cubs. A victory would have meant first place, but the defeat vanquished the Cubs to a disappointing fourth place finish.

Freshmen Spark Reserves

Relying on a lineup which included as many as three freshmen, Mr. William Dodd, S.J., led the U. of D. High Junior Varsity to a 7-4 season record.

The team's offensive punch was supplied by Ken Williams and Greg Poppe, who had the best shooting percentages on the team. Tim Cooney and Pat Davis, both freshmen, formed a backcourt combination which proved equal to any press. Tom Eckert was the team's outstanding player. His 20 rebounds against Catholic Central demonstrated his skill on the boards. Chuck Muir, Tiger Dolan, and Bill Thigpen also showed great promise.

Highlight of the season was a come-from-behind victory over a tough Cathedral quintet. Although down eleven points, the Reserves fought back for an eleven point victory.

Although their record was mediocre, the experience gained by the 1962-63 Reserves should be invaluable in the future.

Frosh Look Forward

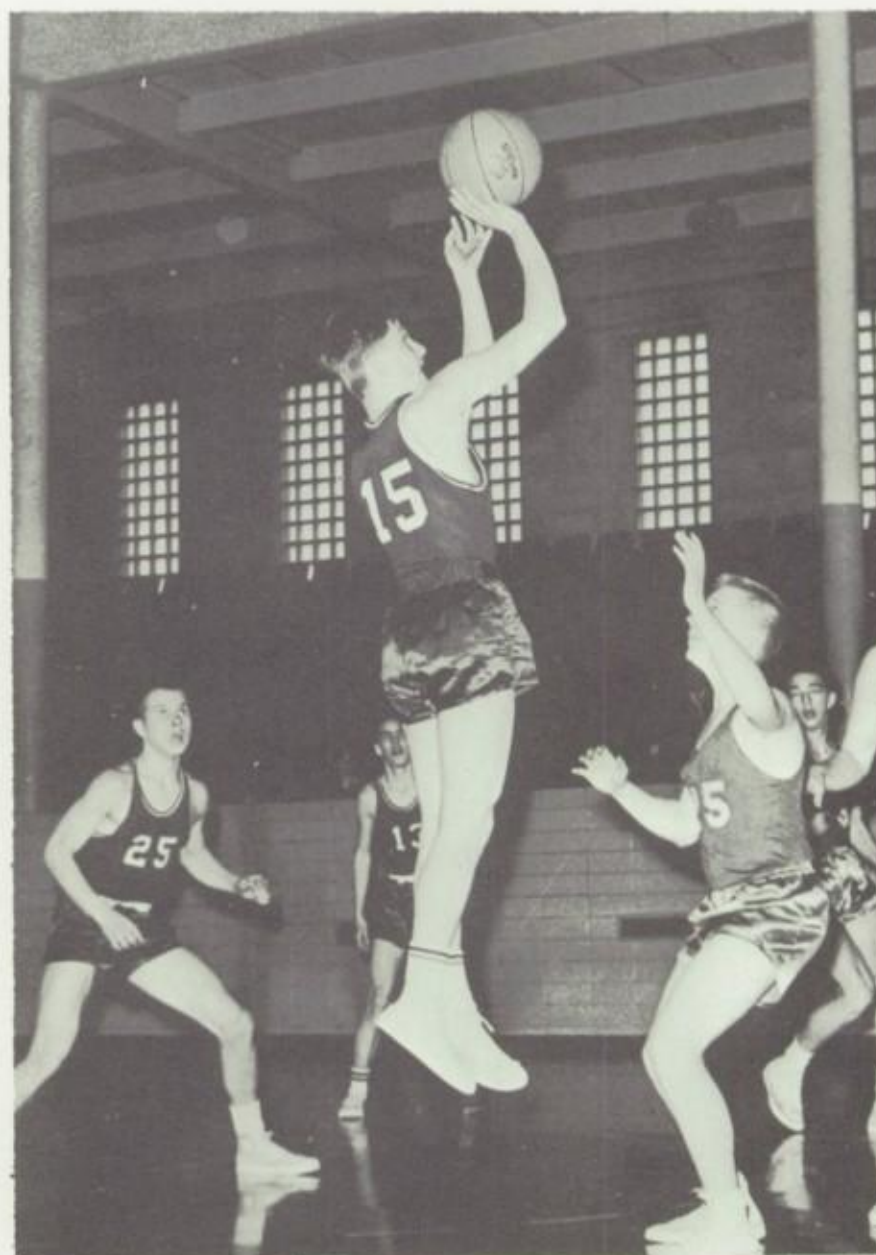

Abounding in talent, the 1962-63 Freshmen basketball team fought its way to a fine 11-3 season mark.

The floor play of Jerry Sheehan and Tom Shroeter; the rebounding of Ed Petersmarck; and the fine all-around play of Dave Widlak, Mike Naylor, John Williams, Andy Szombati, and Jay Nefcy provided an exciting season for coach Mr. Patrick Hussey, S.J.

Team balance marked every game for the Frosh as they won their first six games before bowing to Austin. The Freshmen won five of their remaining seven games, losing only to Notre Dame and Catholic Central.

The success of the team warrants optimistic predictions for future U. of D. High teams.

HARRIERS RACE IN

Captain Dick Reamer kicks toward the finish in his record run against Servite.

Pounding cold, winding routes, a fleet of seven thinclad runners raised U. of D. High to unheralded heights in Cross Country in 1962. Captain Dick Reamer's 9:25.7 run against Servite highlighted a season which saw the Harriers shut out three opponents and finish with an 8-1 dual meet record. Oddly enough, the season's only loss insured the Cub's victory in the Albion Invitational Relays.

The Cubs went into the Catholic League Championship race overwhelming favorites. And on a thick, muddy course, the Harriers lived up to their billing by taking the title, leading their nearest rival, Catholic Central, by an amazing 60 points.

Depth was an important feature of the team all season. This depth was keenly felt in the Championship race when All-American Reamer finished first with a record 9:40 clocking and was followed across the line by Mike Nixon in 6th place, Mike Groff in 7th place, Mike Boylan in 8th place, Paul Fryatt in 15th place, George Kolasa in 19th place, and Paul Faucher in 27th place.

The Reserve Cross Country team also won their championship, giving evidence to the fine array of talent present on the team, and indicating a fine future for Mr. John Tenbusch and Cub thinclads.

The ground hog has now been replaced by a golfer and whether he sees his shadow or not, spring is just a chip-shot away.

True, there hasn't been much opportunity to practice this winter, but the Cub golfers have been spending a great deal of time at home practicing their putting stroke, on the living room carpet.

Golf coach, Fr. John Lasca, S.J., has high hopes that his linksmen will improve upon last year's second place finish behind Austin. He has three returning lettermen and a pair of seasoned freshmen.

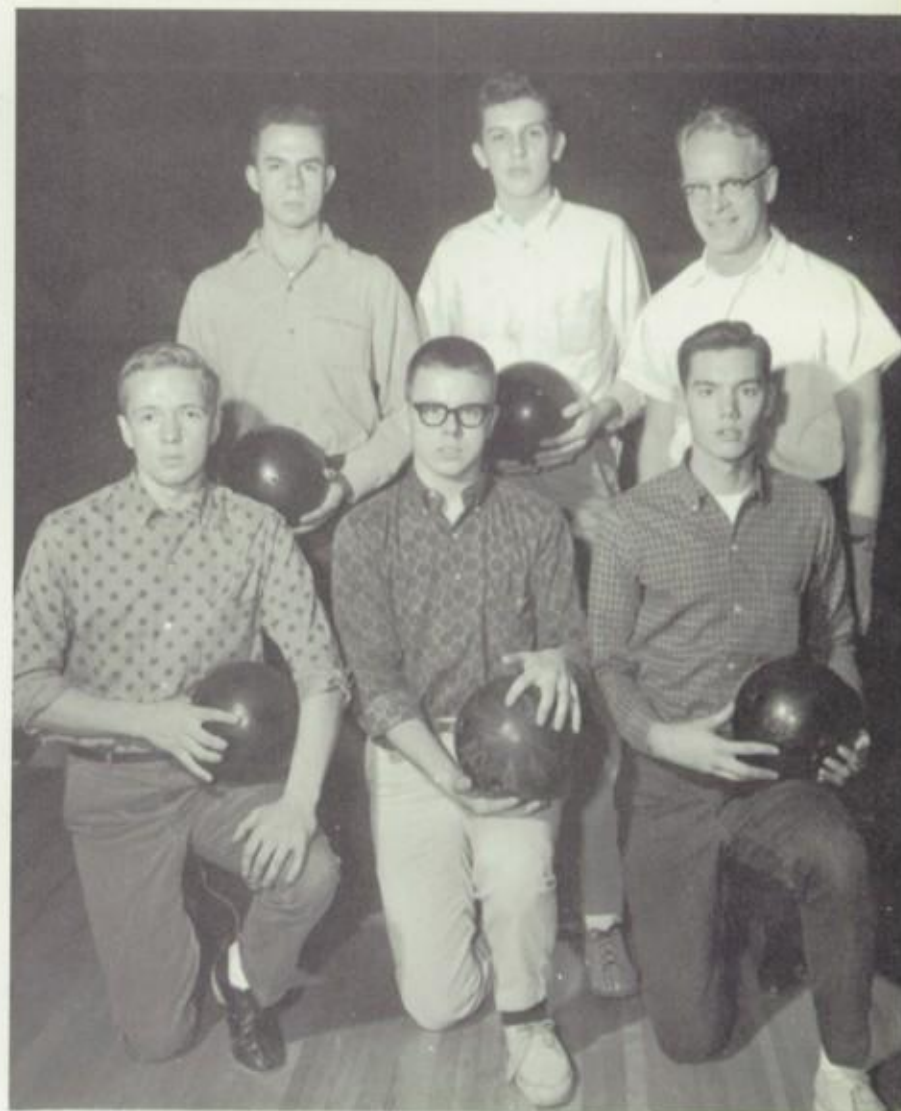

Captain Carter Gerwens, Mark Cykowski, and Rick Freehan, the three lettermen; and the two experienced freshmen, Pete Ewing and Greg Purcott, are anxious to get going.

Bowlers

Pace League

One of the most successful teams during the 1962-63 season was the U. of D. High Bowling team. The Cub Keglers rolled to a first half championship and continued on their winning way by leading the league throughout the second semester action. Experience was the team's biggest asset. Led by Captain Clarence Sroczynski, eight of the ten Cub bowlers were seniors. Ed Bozyk and Joe Harper led the team with 175 averages and consistent 200 scores.

Moderator Fr. Robert Pollauf, S.J., directed the team's efforts from the sidelines and lent his moral support. Even under the constant pressure of fine teams from Catholic Central and De La Salle, the Cub bowlers continually scattered the pins to keep the rest of the league looking up at them.

After a nearly dormant 1962 season, the Cub tankers have set out to regain their former prominence in the Catholic League. Coached by Mr. Richard Cherry, S.J., and captained by Ed Shumaker and Dick Stimson, the Cubs were contenders all the way.

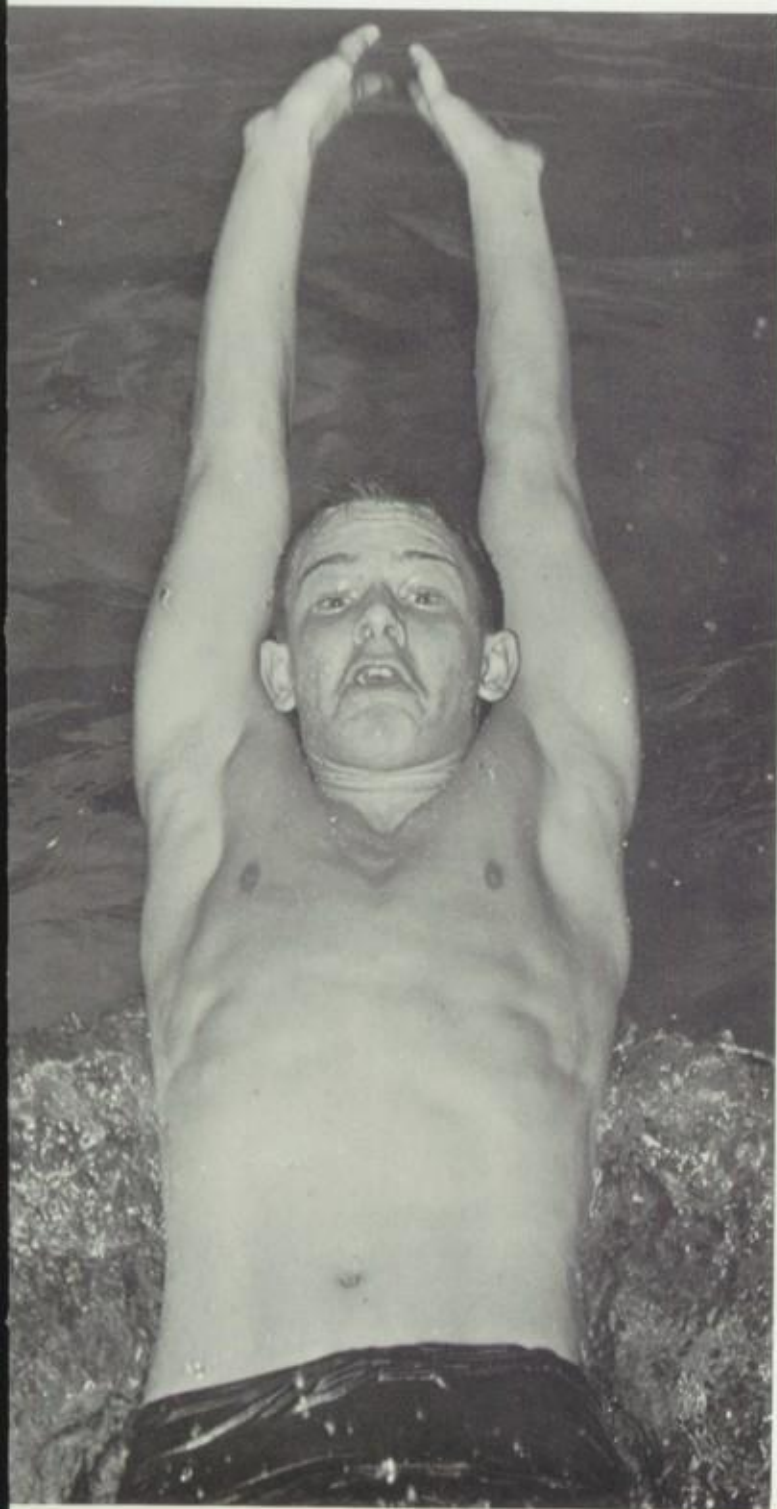

Ed Shumaker led the team in the individual medley and butterfly events while Dick Stimson consistently scored in the freestyle events. Underclass strength was a key factor in the team's success. Juniors Ron Widlak and Bill Cleary; Sophomores Glen Konkle, Tom Duffield, Denny Derda, and Tom Shumaker; and Freshman Tim Sullivan formed the nucleus of the team.

Track

Outlook Bright

The phenomenal success of the 1962 Track squad in winning the U. of D. Relays and the Catholic League Championship has prompted Coach John Tenbusch to predict great things for the 1963 team. Mr. Tenbusch's predictions are backed up by the return of the nucleus of last year's lettermen.

Bill Bonner will be tough to beat in the sprints, Mike Chaput is sure to better his last year's marks in the broad jump and high jump, and Paul Fryatt will continue to rack up the points in the half mile and mile relay. Tom Faler, Tom Nosewicz, Dick Reamer, Mike Nixon, and Mike Groff will be consistent point winners in the Cubs' drive for their second straight Catholic League Championship.

A few of the outstanding performers include dashmen Jim Nicholl and Bob Valente; distance runners Paul Schmitt, Ray Tarnavsky, and Gary Sullivan; hurdlers Bob Stier and Matt Stephanic; broad jumpers Bill Molloy and Leon Gant; and high jumper Mike O'Laughlin.

The 1963 Cub tennis team is looking forward to a winning season. The team has reason for their optimism, having seven returning lettermen and the coaching of Mr. Ronald Wiktor.

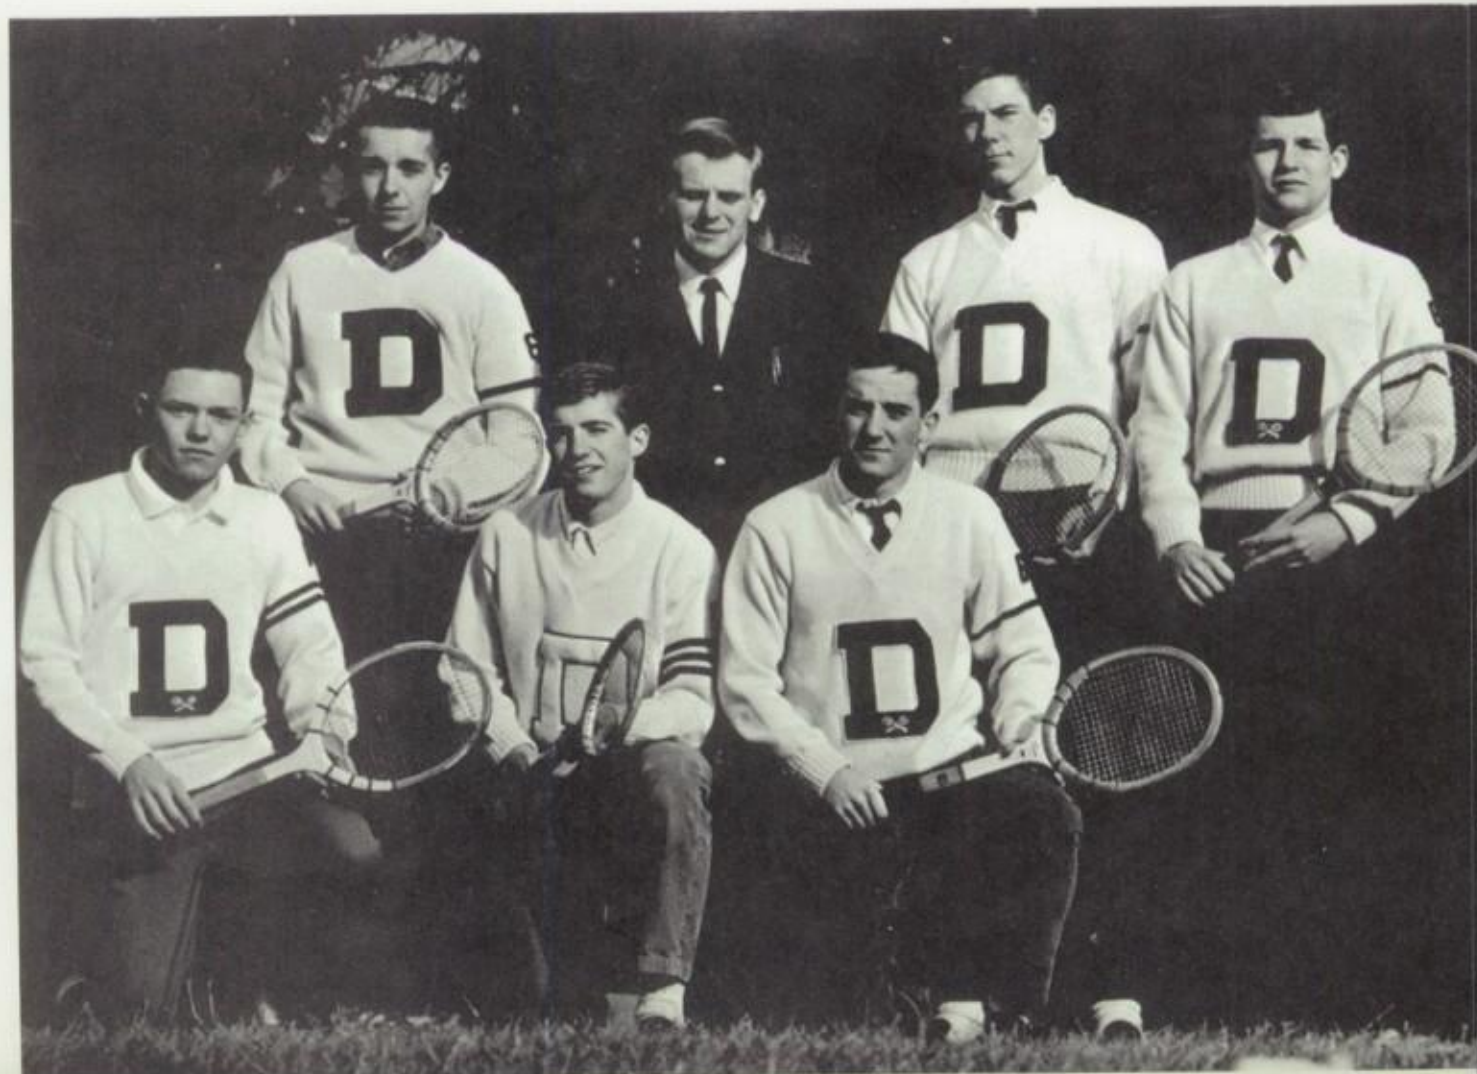

Senior Captain Tim Gray should spearhead the attack. He sparked last year's doubles team and a summer of play has sharpened his play. Bob Lorenz and Forrest Hainline have also improved their games during the off-season, and they should compete for the singles spots.

Returning lettermen include Tom Revitte, Tony Arata, Dave Shilakes, Ed Gray, Rick Schroeter, and Pete Fisher.

With this lineup, the '63 Cub netters are out to beat last year's 8-2 showing.

HOMECOMING

- Solid Show of Spirit

The prize-winning float of 4A correctly predicts Austin's fate.

A come-from-behind victory, a lovely queen and her court, and an unparalleled display of floats and decorated cars provided the necessary touches for a memorable homecoming on October 28, 1962. Touchdowns by Bill Bonner and Tom Nosewitz overcame Austin's early lead and brought home a 14-12 success. The court, composed of Queen Jackie Piper, Cathy Chouinard, and Betty Wachowski of Immaculata, Diane Masty of Rosary, and Jean Slavin of Marian, also added a delightful air to the proceedings. Dominated by 4A's prize-winning float, the parade surpassed all such previous exhibitions in size and quality. An undefinable spirit was omnipresent, from the team's zeal to the intense preparation of the fourteen floats and the eleven decorated cars.

Posters, speeches, and enthusiasm colored the Third Annual Student Senate Convention on October 5. The campaigning began two weeks before the election, as the candidates exhausted every possible means for advertising their qualifications.

All this, however, was really only the beginning. The climax came as U. of D. High's entire student body boisterously assembled in the gym on the day of the election. The more frenzied students came in wearing campaign hats and waving posters in the faces of their uncommitted classmates. The keynote speaker, Mayor Jerome P. Cavanaugh, spoke out advising both the student delegates and the candidates about their duties to the school and their fellow students.

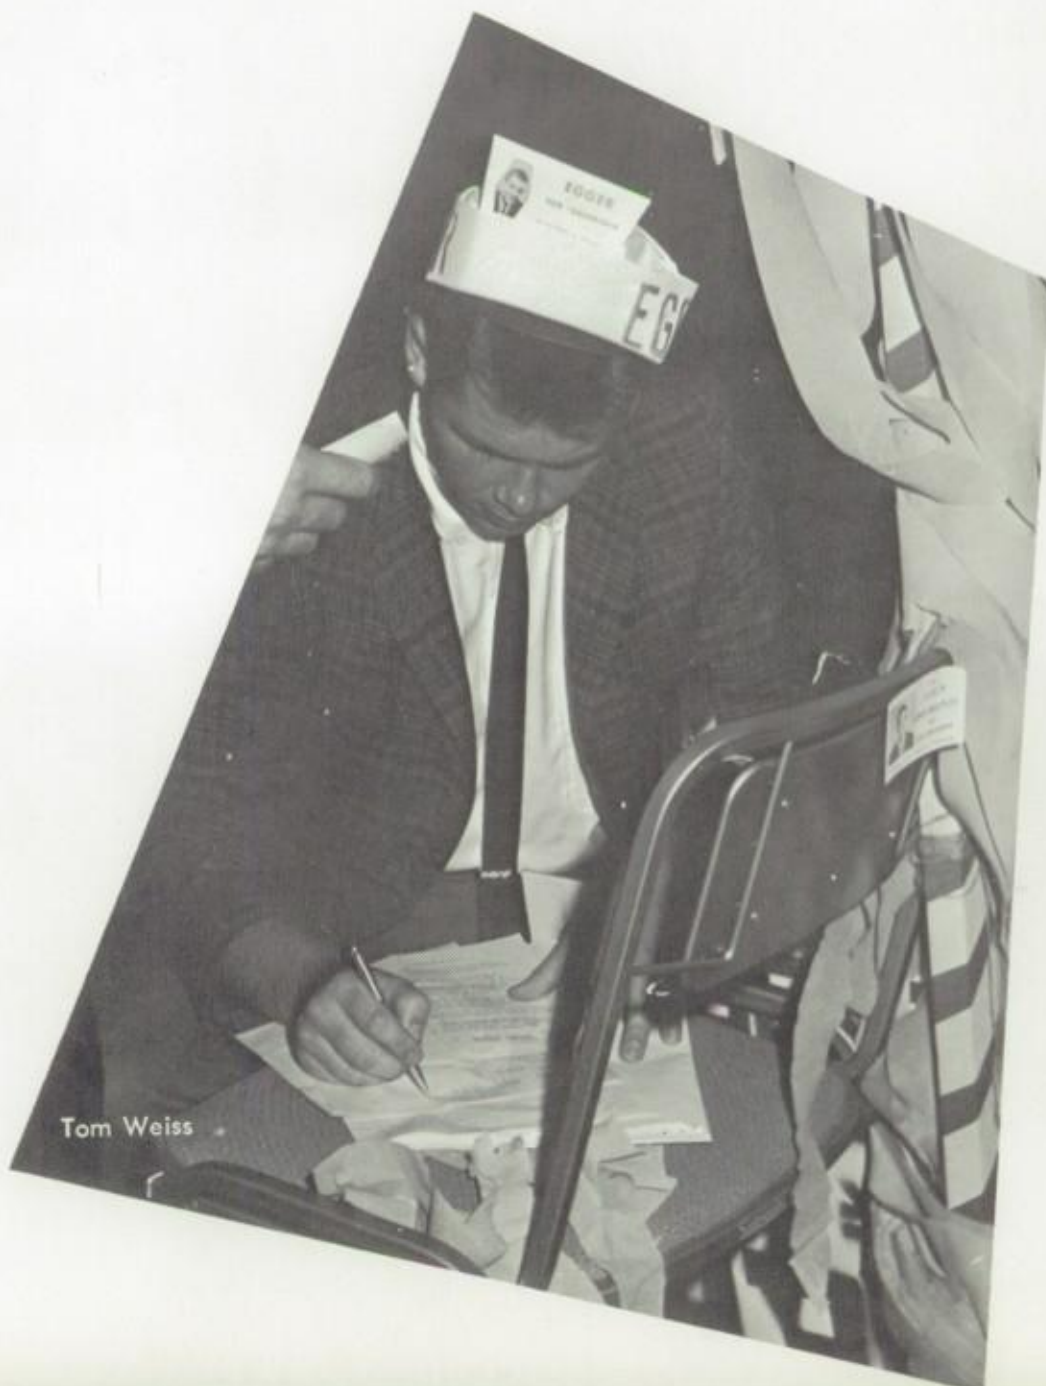

Then, student leaders gave nominating speeches just before the complicated voting process began. Finally, when the vote tabulations were checked and doublechecked, the delegates had elected John Desmond as Vice-President, Ed Shumaker as Secretary, Pat Korth as Treasurer, and Jim Hoff as Sergeant-at-Arms. As expected, Tom Fitzpatrick won the gavel of the Presidency in a landslide of ballots.

RETREATS

In this busy modern world, many students find themselves tired, confused and bewildered. Once each year, every U. of D. High student steps from the stream of daily life for a few days to make a retreat.

There a young man finds the peace and solace that will restore his straight thinking. Under the influence of prayer, spiritual talks, and the sacraments, the student gains a new perspective of himself and of God's place in his life. This short spiritual departure enables him to give meaning and direction to the remaining part of the year.

Early in the second quarter and during semester break, the entire senior class and fifty junior sodalists made closed retreats. The retreatants stayed at nearby Manresa in suburban Bloomfield Hills, the Holy Family Retreat House in Oxley, Ontario, and the lake-side site at Saginaw, Michigan.

All underclassmen not making closed retreats benefited from open retreats at school.

Mike Church highlights his retreat with confession.

Bill Lynch consults his retreat counselor, Fr. Robert Lab, S.J.

LOUNGE

- Senior Sanctum

McHugh and Fryatt overwhelm ping-pong opponents.

Conversation, pinochle, and smoke mingle to create a typical Lounge atmosphere.

In a narrow hideaway under the U. of D. High gymnasium stands, we find a different type of classroom. Here the rhythm of the twist predominates over the beat of the second declension or the third aorist optative. Cigarette smoke replaces the mist of chalk dust, and the students are gathered at card tables instead of desks; but we are still in a classroom. The subject being taught here is the art of academic relaxation.

U. of D. High men assemble and talk out their problems over a game of pinochle. Even though flip-top boxes and candy wrappers are scattered on the floor instead of homework papers, the senior lounge is still a place of learning. Books stay closed, but minds are given a chance to open freely. Points may be illustrated on match books rather than on blackboards; the points still get stated and put across. The Senior Lounge is truly a classroom—even if there are ash trays on the desks.

Bender, Connors, and Clarke practice academic relaxation.

Blasts from the jukebox punctuate Dave Logsdon's thoughts.

DANCES

- Social Scenes

A vast crowd of white-socked boys and girls wander over the gym floor talking and laughing. The beat of a record echoes over the loudspeaker, and the whole group converts into a gyrating tumult of colliding bodies. This is a U. of D. High sock hop, held monthly throughout the school year.

In contrast to the informality of the sock hops is the dress-up glamor of the four U. of D. High formal dances: the Fall Dance, the Holly Hop, Gala Nite, and the Easter Dance. The rhythm of the band, the dark suits and crisp dresses, and the colorful decorations effect a pleasantly social mood.

Whether the atmosphere is casual or not, both the students and their dates enjoy themselves.

SPIRIT

- Infectious

Enthusiasm

Mr. Tenbusch directs the tide of student spirit at a basketball rally.

Cub basketball fans (right) react spontaneously to the Austin upset.

There really is no pat definition to describe the strange quality we conveniently call "school-spirit." Spirit is the flowing pride in U. of D. High seen in the face of the smallest freshman or the largest senior. It's the vast sea of white-shirted boys yelling themselves hoarse at a basketball game. It's long hours spent at dimly-lit desks translating Latin or working physics problems. It's the time spent between the hours of three and five on the football field, in the Annual office, or in the band room. It's the invisible bond which holds the student body together despite the occasional setbacks of the school's athletic teams.

This year spirit has reached crashing crescendos, inspiring the football and basketball teams to resounding victories. The in-school and post-game rallies and the renewed interest in extra-curricular activities have welded the students into a more solid unit than ever before.

The Cub lettermen await the appearance of the basketball team.
